Guidelines for International Students Regarding Dependents

We are happy that you will have your family member join you here in Florence. Here are a few, brief notes regarding the

Status

You, as the F or J1 student, are the legal Primary. Your status determines the status of your dependents.

Living and Traveling Separately

F-2 and J2 dependents are expected to live with the F or J1 primary. Dependents should not be in the United States without the F or J1 primary. If the F or J2 dependent returns to the home country (or is otherwise outside the USA for more than 90 days), you are responsible to notify the Office of International Affairs. Our certification with the government requires us to be responsible for all individuals under our program in case of emergency.

Insurance

Your dependent must have health insurance in the United States at all times. If you participate in the International Health Plan, you will be required to enroll the dependent and pay Aetna directly.
